Doylestown, Pa. May 1 1877

Lloyd P. Smith Esq.

my dear Sir

I sent word to Mr. Beaumont about our protesting against the payment of any of the taxes on Loganian lands, but as yet he has not called, I expect he will be in shortly. I saw the Commissioners this morning and gave them the notice I was speaking to you about, a copy of which I here send.

They seemed to be of my opinion that the owners of the fee should pay all the taxes. The 15th of May is the appeal day for Solesbury township and the matter may come up then. If the Tenants have any proposition to present I will send the same to you.

I am looking up the matter and will let you know as soon as I can what I think of the case, our liability to pay the taxes &c. The Com^s are disposed to do what is right.

If you have anything to suggest,
please write

Yours Truly

J. L. Du Bois

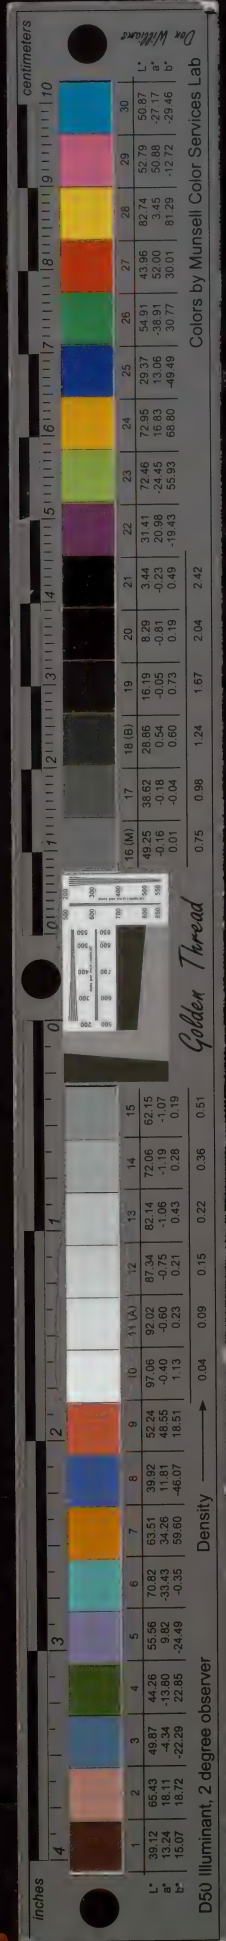

Mr. John Marshall's address is

To the Commissioners of the County of Bucks

Sirs:

Please take notice that on the Eleventh of May 1868 the Library Company of Philadelphia and the Tenants in fee of the Loganian lands in Solesbury township Bucks County agreed in writing (the original being filed in the Commissioner's office of Bucks County) that the said Library Company should be assessed from the date of the Triennial assessment of 1867 inclusive until May 1st 1877 with half the county assessment of said Loganian lands and should pay county and other Taxes upon the said half of the County assessments and the said tenants in fee of said Loganian land should be assessed with the other half of the County assessment for the said term and should pay County and other Taxes on their said half of the County assessment. The said time is now expired, the Library Company aforesaid is unwilling to be assessed any longer with half of the County assessment of the said Loganian lands and unwilling to pay County and other taxes upon the said half of the County assessment, contending that the tenants aforesaid should now be assessed with the whole of the County assessment and should pay County and other Taxes on the whole of the County assessment. The Library Company aforesaid hereby appeals from any assessments you have made against them and gives you notice not to assess it with any of the County assessment of said Loganian lands and not to tax it to pay County and other Taxes upon any of the County assessment, but to assess the tenants aforesaid with the whole of the County assessment and make them pay County and other taxes on the whole of the County assessment.

The said Library Company contend that it is not liable to be assessed with any of the County assessment of said Loganian lands and not liable to pay County or other taxes upon any of the County assessment.

My dear Sir

Your favor has been duly received.

I think the Loganian land owners are liable for all taxes assessed on the premises. I am trying to get Commissioners to assess the taxes against them. Will know all about it on the 15th been busy but will call on me shortly. Will write if any thing new transpires.

DR. J. DICKINSON LOGAN.
 Dr. J. Dickinson Logan died yesterday in Baltimore in the sixty-fifth year of his age. Though he had lived for some years in the city in which his death occurred, he was by birth and the associations of more than half a century a Philadelphian. Since the foundation of the Quaker City his family has lived within or just beyond its limits, and the family name is commemorated in a public library, the Loganian. Dr. Logan was a descendant of that James Logan who, at the beginning of the eighteenth century, occasionally represented William Penn in the government of Pennsylvania and whose correspondence has been invaluable to historians of the State.
 George Logan, his grandson, and the Doctor's grandfather, is remembered in history as a self-appointed envoy to Great Britain at the period of the revolution. Dr. Logan himself, though he practiced medicine but a few years and made no effort to win renown of any sort, was abundantly successful in winning esteem, and his loss will be regretted by a wider circle of friends than it is often the privilege of a private man to attract. He married in early life a Miss Wister, of Germantown, who, with one son, survives him.

Mr. Geo Maurice Abbot,

Dear Sir:-

I am herewith inclosing you my check on the Doylestown National Bank for the sum of $409.09, being the amount of rent in my hands due March 1st, 1920, paid by the following persons and receipted for as "on account".

C. E. Edwards	$165.00
Amy B. Knight	46.90
Hugh B. Eastburn	133.00
Dr. A.R. V. Mattison	45.75
Eastburn Reeder's Est.	18.44
Total-	$409.09

The following tenants are in arrear.

Joseph A. Perna	142.03
Solebury School District	2.00
Great Spring Manufacturing Co.,
Wm. Lorimer, Ontario & Lawrence
Sts., Philadelphia, 3 tracts,	69.30
Wm. S. Lorimer, 3 tracts,	112.55

During the present year, while successful in carrying out Mr. Keating's proposal to extinguish these ground rents as to the Dean Tract, in the matter of the Ingham owners, the effort to accomplish the same end has not materialized, largely through the inability of the other owners to secure the title of the tract of 80 Acres and 120 Perches of Joseph Perna, whose rent they have paid during the last two or three years. I understand that through their Attorney, John C. Swartley, Esq., they are now making an effort to obtain judgment against him for the previous payments and if successful, will foreclose and secure title to his tract, but, in the meantime, Mr. Lorimer, although repeatedly promising payment, is also in default as to the Great Spring Company and his own title.

None of the rentals due March the first, 1921, have been paid and while I believe the effort of these gentlemen to bring about a settlement is in good faith, I would suggest, with your approval, that in order to stimulate them to action, as soon as the crop season materializes, a distress warrant be issued against the whole tract to include the present year's rentals and those in default March first, 1920.

Very truly yours,

Harman Yerkes

Dear Sir:-

I am herewith inclosing you my check for $939.45, balance of amount of collections for years beginning March 1st, 1920 and 1921, less my fee for services for two years. Owing to the delinquency of Mr. Perna, a holder of one of the principal tracts in paying his rent, after abandoning the use of the property, the remaining tenants have, under the force of a distress warrant, advanced his share for the two years and have also paid the balances due by them.

It is proposed by them, under direction of Mr. Zimmerman of Philadelphia, purchaser of the Solebury Park, to force a foreclosure of the Perna tract by a tax sale with the view of buying in it and then entering into an agreement with the company for an extinguishment of these rentals similar to that effected in relation to the Dean tract. Some delay has occurred in my issuing the distress warrant to give them an opportunity to arrange for the payment of the rentals in arrear. I am herewith inclosing receipt which kindly return to me.

Dear Sir:-

I today received through the Doylestown Trust Company a check in settlement of the extinguishment of ground rents calculated to this day in final settlement of the agreement of extinguishment in accordance with the decree of the Orphans Court of Bucks County, as per the enclosed statement, and am returning the same to you by check, less a deduction of $1500. for my counsel fees and services in the accomplishment of this settlement, leaving $12,923.36. the amount of the check.

Owing to the difficulty experienced by the land ~~owners in raising the money for their respective shares of the~~ contribution towards the extinguishment and a good deal of backing and filling, this has been rather a troublesome matter.

But, in view of the difficulties experienced during the past ten years in collecting these rentals I feel that the Library Company is well out of the responsibility for these charges and the collection of the rents.

A meeting of the trustees of the Loganian Trust was held at the library, Juniper and Locust Streets on April 2, 1936, at 6.50 o'clock P.M. Those present were Dr. Hutchinson (in the chair), Dr. Packard and Messrs. Barringer, Beale, Biddle, Boie, Ingersoll, Jayne, Rhoads, Scott, and Messrs Gray (Librarian) and Wister, (Secretary).

Dr. Hutchinson stated that in the absence of Messrs Logan, Fox and Penrose, the question of the sale of books of the Library Company of Philadelphia to the Loganian Trust, for which this meeting had been called, could not be considered.

There being no further business the meeting adjourned at 6.55 o'clock P.M.

July 20, 1936

A special meeting of the Loganian Trustees was held at the library, Juniper and Locust Streets, on July 20, 1936, at 3.25 o'clock P.M.

Those present were Dr. Packard (in the chair), Messrs Barringer, Biddle, Boie, Cope, Fox, Logan, Parrish, Penrose, Rhoads and Scoville, and Messrs Gray, Librarian, and Wister, Secretary.

The Chair read a copy of the resolution adopted by the Directors of the Library Company at a meeting immediately preceding this meeting, in which certain books of the Library Company were offered for sale to the Logan Trust.

Mr. Hogan said the welfare of the Logan Trust was intimately related to that of the Library Company, and that if the latter found itself in a financial emergency, the Logan Trust would be benefitted by accepting the offer of the Library Company, using accumulated income to make the purchase. He said that if there were no emergency, the purchase should not be made.

Mr. Fox said that in case of extreme emergency in the affairs of the Library Company, the accumulated income might be contributed to that Company without further consideration. Mr. Hogan suggested that the money might be loaned. Mr. Penrose said there was no doubt that a serious emergency existed, and that the offer should be accepted. Mr. Scoville said the Library Company urgently needed the money, and that the Logan Trust would receive the greatest security by acquiring the books offered which were fully worth the price and which would thenceforth be the property of the Logan Trust.

After further discussion, on motion of Mr. Hogan seconded by Mr. Scoville, the following preamble and resolution were unanimously carried:

Whereas The Library Company of Philadelphia is in pressing need of funds to meet its current expenses, to such an extent as to constitute a financial emergency, and

Whereas the said company, in order to raise funds, has made an offer of sale of certain of its books to the Loganian Trust, and

Whereas the books are offered at fair prices, and

Whereas it is to the interest of the Loganian Trust that the Library Company should continue to exist as a going concern, and

Whereas The Library Company will be benefitted by the acceptance of its offer, and the best interests of the Loganian Trust will be advanced thereby, and

Whereas there is an accumulation of income in the Loganian Trust, in the amount of $4,741.65

Resolved, that the offer of the Library Company of Philadelphia, contained in a resolution adopted by its Board of Directors on July 20, 1936, to sell to the Loganian Trust the following books at the prices stated, be and it is hereby accepted, the purchase price to be paid out of the accumulated income of the Loganian Trust:

Death of an Old Resident of Germantown.—

On September 23d, John Jay Smith died at his residence in Germantown aged eighty-three years. He was born in Burlington county, N. J., in 1798, and came to this city when a young man, entered into business as a druggist. His grandfather, John Smith of this City, married Hannah, a daughter of James Logan, the Secretary of William Penn. Having scholarly tastes, he gradually drifted into literature. He was editor of the Pennsylvania Gazette in 1827-'28. Being a descendant of James Logan, he was entitled under the will of his grandfather to be librarian and trustee of the Loganian Library—the management of which had been transferred by Logan's descendants to the Philadelphia Library. In 1829 he succeeded to the librarianship of the Loganian Library and was also elected librarian of the Philadelphia Library Company. While holding that position, during a course of twenty-one years, he devoted a portion of his time to literature. He was editor of the Saturday Bulletin in 1830-'32; Daily Express, 1832; Waldie's Select Library, 1833 to 1849; Waldie's Portfolio, Smith's Weekly Volume, 1845-'46. For Walsh's National Gazette he was an editorial writer for some time. He had great taste in horticulture, and succeeded A. J. Downing in the editorship of the Horticulturist in 1855, and continued until 1860. Meanwhile he had written various books: "A Summer Jaunt Across the Water," published in 1847; "Notes for a History of the Philadelphia Library Company," 1831; "Guide to Laurel-Hill Cemetery," 1844; "The Penn Family," published in "Penn and Logan Correspondence;" "The Burlington Smiths," and various biographies and other literary work. About 1835 Mr. Smith took part in some public meetings which were intended to awake attention to the necessity of establishing a cemetery near the City upon a plan different from that which was then in existence in reference to the management of church graveyards. The result was the purchase of ground at Laurel-Hill in the early part of 1836, and the opening of that cemetery in October of the same year. Mr. Smith was a director of the company from the beginning, and after 1851 its president, devoting his whole time to improvement and decoration of the ground. Subsequently he became president of the West Laurel-Hill Cemetery Company. He leaves three sons, a daughter and a number of grandchildren.
